Good morning to all:

First, let thank you all again for the opportunity to work with you last week. A special thanks goes to Michael, Gena and Donald, for their confidence in allowing me to do something different for this meeting to bring value to our relationship.

I have had several requests for my presentation, so it's attached. At a minimum you may find it helpful to print out the slides relating to OBO business challenges, the benchmarks, the probing questions, and the Four Corners.

Should you have any additional questions that we were unable to discuss, please feel free to send them to me.

Again, many thanks for this opportunity to learn with you. Remember my saying,
"We never stop learning until all of our fingers are even on the ends"
